Project1

Exercise 1 Create the home page

The screenshot shows a web browser window with multiple tabs open. The active tab displays a website titled "The Halloween Store". The page features a large orange pumpkin icon at the top. Below it, the text "The Halloween Store" and "For the little Goblin for all of us!" is visible. A prominent heading "Welcome to my site. Please come in and stay awhile." is centered. Below this, a paragraph explains the purpose of the site: "I started this website because Halloween has always been my favorite holiday. But during the last year, I started selling some of my favorite Halloween products, and they've become quite a hit. If you click on the Personal link, you can browse my favorite Halloween pictures, stories, and films. And if you join my email list, I will keep you up-to-date on all things Halloween." A section titled "Product Categories" lists links to "Props", "Costumes", "Special Effects", and "Masks". Another section, "My guarantee", states that returns are available "No questions asked!". The footer includes a copyright notice for "© 2016 Ben Murach".

The screenshot shows the "Nu Html Checker" application. At the top, there's a header bar with the title "Nu Html Checker". Below it, a message says "This tool is an ongoing experiment in better HTML checking, and its behavior remains subject to change". The main area is titled "Showing results for http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version1/index.html". It contains a form for "Checker Input" with fields for "Show" (source, outline, image report), "Options...", "Check by" (address), and a URL input field containing "http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version1/index.html". A "Check" button is also present. At the bottom, a green box displays the message "Document checking completed. No errors or warnings to show.". Below this, smaller text indicates "Used the HTML parser." and "Total execution time 145 milliseconds."

The summary from the wave tool included 0 errors, 0 alerts, 1 features, 7 structural elements, 3 HTML 5 and ARIA as well as 0 contrast errors.

Exercise 2 Format the home page

The screenshot shows the "Nu Html Checker" application window. The title bar reads "Nu Html Checker". The main area contains a message: "This tool is an ongoing experiment in better HTML checking, and its behavior remains subject to change". Below this, it says "Showing results for http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version2/index.html". A "Checker Input" section has a "Show" button followed by "source", "outline", and "image report" options. A "Check by" dropdown is set to "address", and the URL "http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version2/index.html" is entered into the input field. A "Check" button is below the input field. A green status bar at the bottom says "Document checking completed. No errors or warnings to show.". Below this, it says "Used the HTML parser." and "Total execution time 72 milliseconds.". At the very bottom, there are links for "About this checker", "Report an issue", and "Version: 18.2.20".

The URL in the address bar is mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version6/. The browser's toolbar includes various icons for file operations and navigation.

The website has a yellow header with a black gradient background. On the left is a cartoon-style orange jack-o'-lantern icon. The main title "The Halloween Store" is in large black font, and a subtitle "For the little Goblin for all of us!" is in smaller black font below it.

The navigation menu at the top includes links for "Home", "Product List", "Personal", "Decorating Ideas", and "Join Email".

On the left side, there is a vertical sidebar with four yellow rectangular buttons, each containing a link: "Props", "Costumes", "Special FX", and "Masks".

The main content area features a large black "W" followed by the text "elcome to my site. Please come in and stay awhile." in a bold, sans-serif font.

Below this text, there is a paragraph of text: "I started this website because Halloween has always been my favorite holiday. But during the last year, I started selling some of my favorite Halloween products, and they've become quite a hit."

Further down, another paragraph reads: "If you click on the Personal link, you can browse my favorite Halloween pictures, stories, and films. And if you join my email list, I will keep you up-to-date on all things Halloween."

A section titled "Product of the week" features an image of a black cat sitting by a small campfire. Below the image is the text "20" Deranged cat".

A section titled "My guarantee" contains the text: "If you aren't completely satisfied with everything you buy from my site, you can return it for a full refund. No questions asked!"

The footer of the website is a dark horizontal bar with the copyright notice "© 2016 Ben Murach".

At the bottom of the browser window, there are decorative silhouettes of bats flying across the screen.

The summary included 0 Errors, 0 Alerts, 5 Features, 6 Structural Elements, 5 HTML5 and ARIA, 5 Contrast Errors with the use of the white text in the menu.

The screenshot shows the "subscribe.html" response for the "The Halloween Store" page. The page displays a thank you message: "Thank you for joining my email list!" and a note: "You will be hearing from me soon. In the meantime, please feel free to browse through my site." The layout is identical to the original page, featuring a yellow header with a pumpkin icon and the text "The Halloween Store" and "For the little Goblin for all of us!". The sidebar on the left shows the WAVE summary. The WAVE toolbar at the top is also present.

The screenshot shows a browser window with multiple tabs open at the top. The active tab is 'Showing res...' with the URL <https://validator.w3.org/nu/?doc=http%3A%2F%2Fmcs.athens.edu%2F~tgevers%2FProject1%2Fversion12%2Fsubscribe.html>. The page title is 'Nu Html Checker'. A message states: 'This tool is an ongoing experiment in better HTML checking, and its behavior remains subject to change'. Below it, it says 'Showing results for http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version12/subscribe.html'. There's a 'Checker Input' section with buttons for 'source', 'outline', 'image report', and 'Options...'. Under 'Check by', there's a dropdown set to 'address' with the value 'http://mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version12/subscribe.html' and a 'Check' button. A note below says 'Use the Message Filtering button below to hide/show particular messages, and to see total counts of errors and warnings.' followed by a 'Message Filtering' button. A warning message is displayed: '1. Warning Section lacks heading. Consider using [h2-h6] elements to add identifying headings to all sections.' It includes the text 'From line 42, column 3; to line 42, column 30' and highlights the code snippet: <main>↵       <section class="categories">↵           

11 Add an embedded font and a story and provide for printing the story

Screenshot of a web browser showing a Halloween-themed website titled "THE HALLOWEEN STORE". The page features a yellow header with a pumpkin icon and the text "For the little Goblin for all of us!". Below the header is a navigation bar with links: Home, Product List, Personal, Decorating Ideas, and Join Email. On the left side, there are four orange buttons labeled Pictures, Home Videos, Haunted Houses, and Scary Stories. The main content area contains a heading "Here is my favorite haunted house!" followed by a large image of a Victorian-style house with a dark, stormy background. Below the image, a story titled "This year's story: 'The Benevolent Goblin'" is displayed, attributed to Gesta Romanorum. The story text is as follows:

In the kingdom of England there is a hillock in the midst of a dense wood. Thither in old days knights and their followers were wont to repair when tired and thirsty after the chase. When one of their number called out, "I thirst!" there immediately started up a Goblin with a cheerful countenance, clad in a crimson robe, and bearing in his outstretched hand a large drinking-horn richly ornamented with gold and precious jewels, and full of the most delicious, unknown beverage.

The Goblin presented the horn to the thirsty knight, who drank and instantly felt refreshed and cool. After the drinker had emptied the horn, the Goblin offered a silken napkin to wipe the mouth. Then, without waiting to be thanked, the strange creature vanished as suddenly as he had come.

Now once there was a knight of churlish nature, who was hunting alone in those parts. Feeling thirsty and fatigued, he visited the hillock and cried out:

"I thirst!"

Instantly the Goblin appeared and presented the horn. When the knight had drained it of its delicious beverage, instead of returning the horn, he thrust it into his bosom, and rode hastily away. He boasted far and wide of his deed, and his feudal lord hearing thereof caused him to be bound and cast into prison; then fearing lest he, too, might become partaker in the theft and ingratitude of the knight, the lord presented the jeweled horn to the King of England, who carefully preserved it among the royal treasures. But never again did the benevolent Goblin return to the hillock in the wood.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with multiple tabs open. The active tab displays a story titled "The Benevolent Goblin" by Gesta Romanorum. The browser's address bar shows the URL: mcs.athens.edu/~tgevers/Project1/version14/haunted\_index.html. A print dialog box is overlaid on the page, indicating "Total: 1 sheet of paper". The print settings include:

- Destination: Canon MG2500 series
- Pages: All (e.g. 1-5, 8, 11-13)
- Copies: 1
- Layout: Portrait
- Color: Black and white
- Options: Two-sided (checked)

The story itself is a classic tale about a knight who becomes thirsty during a chase and is helped by a benevolent goblin.

Welcome to my site.
Please come in and stay awhile.

I started this website because Halloween has always been my favorite holiday. But during the last year, I started selling some of my favorite Halloween products, and they've become quite a hit.

If you click on the Personal link, you can browse my favorite Halloween pictures, stories, and films. And if you join my email list, I will keep you up-to-date on all things Halloween.
